RDI Managed Network Security

Secure & Resilient Networks

RDI is an ideal network security solution for single-site customers, multi-location enterprises or any business implementing defense-in-depth strategies that need professionally managed gateway solutions. RDI managed network security solutions seamlessly integrate security technologies — such as anti-virus protection, firewalls, intrusion prevention, application control, web content filtering, VPN, anti-spam and more — layered into comprehensive, custom security solutions. Our experienced engineering team addresses your entire threat landscape with end-to-end network security protection, policies, best practices and threat intelligence capabilities to mitigate network security risks. By managing key security functions on a single platform, we deliver network security at significant cost savings.

Strategic Security Intelligence

We design, configure, install, manage, monitor and maintain network security for your enterprise. As a fully managed solution, we unburden IT staff from day-to-day security infrastructure management tasks and free up internal IT resources to focus on strategic initiatives that support the bottom line. Complete with 24/7 firewall protection for your business out security experts manage your network security and firewall technology including software updates, patch implementations, and firewall defense testing.
